Yes or No – Which Will It Be?

John has had a bad day at the office and heads home angry and depressed.

Meanwhile, Sarah, his wife, and their daughter and son, Melissa and Mark, have had a great day at the park and can't wait to get home to tell him.

When the door opens and joy meets anger, things can go either way. It can be yes or it can be no!

What if John's anger and hurt are so severe that he does not want to hear any good news? His family's happiness is an intrusion on his bad mood. His own life has been disturbed, so he will disturb other lives—partly because his misery wants company, partly because he wants to get even, even if it is with the wrong people.

The joyful environment is destroyed; fear and hostility take its place. And the family has learned something about joy and anger, about yes and no, that it may never forget.

It has learned that an angry person is to be feared, that joy is not as important as rage, that power matters more than happiness.

But the whole incident could go in a different direction. What if their joy is so contagious and irresistible that John's anger fades as soon as he sees the joy of his wife and children?

He wants to pout but he is sensitive to his family and open to its influence, so he surrenders to its goodness.

BLESSING OF ANIMALS

SUNDAY, OCTOBER 2, AT 4:00PM

St. Thomas More's annual Blessing of Animals will take place next week on Sunday, October 2, at 4:00pm.

In honor of the Feast of St. Francis of Assisi, Fr. Mike will preside as we gather with our beloved pets on the Plaza of our Parish Center for this traditional liturgy of celebration, prayer, and blessing.

Bring your furry and not-so-furry friends to the Plaza early to meet and greet each other.

We ask that you make sure your pets are under complete control, as we expect the gathering to be a bit boisterous.

See you there!

The family learns things from this encounter that it might never forget. It learns that joy is stronger than anger, that anger can be cushioned by contentment, that exuberance is not out of order and that gloom must justify itself.

The family may reflect on the fact that the father is important but his mood is not the determining factor, that other members of the family have enormous resources to create the family environment.

Salvation happens in ordinary things or it doesn't happen at all. But, either way, it has extraordinary effects.

If the angry mood prevails, the children may carry it into their play and be aggressive; people phoning the house will be answered rudely; a planned visit to a lonely relative will be called off because no one now feels like it. There is no salvation in this situation.

But if joy prevails, then there is an atmosphere where generosity flourishes and hostilities are dispelled. People will favor mercy and forgiveness over vengeance. Salvation comes to that house.

But it does not stop there. Families take their joy or anger into their schools, their workplaces, their neighborhoods.

That is why some school atmospheres are relaxed while others are rigid, why offices are cooperative or competitive, why neighborhoods are friendly or dangerous.

No human action is insignificant. All of them contain seeds of salvation or destruction.

Each of us works out our happiness and salvation in everyday ways. The universal atmosphere of good or evil is an accumulation of our ordinary deeds, of our "yes's" and "no's."

Fr. Mike

Julia Cepeda, who died September 14. A Memorial Mass was celebrated on September 22 at St. Thomas More. Burial will be in Saipan. Please keep her son Juan Cepeda, and the family in your prayers.

May his soul and all the souls of the faithful departed, through the mercy of God, rest in peace. Amen.

Bible Study

Beginning Wednesday, September 28, at 9:00am or Thursday, September 29, at 7:00pm, please join us for seven sessions as we study and discuss the lessons given to us in the catholic letters of St. James, St. Peter, and St. Jude.

We refer to these letters of the Bible in this way because they were addressed to the whole church and not just to a specific church or individual as in the case of St. Paul's letters. They were written to strengthen Christian communities scattered throughout the Roman Empire. Each letter has a specific purpose and content of its own, and they have very few features in common. St. Augustine says they all have to do with refuting errors which were beginning to appear. All of them evidence the teaching and catechesis given to the early Christian communities. The tone is pastoral and the letters contain religious instruction and moral teaching encouraging people to lead deeply Christian lives.

Please join us as we encourage each other to be better Christians. Registration forms available at the information table on the Plaza.

Our Support to Solutions for Change

Thank you to all the Parishioners who contributed to the recent collection for North County Solutions for Change! As a result of your donations the Parish sent a check for $8,000 as part of our three-year pledge to sponsor a family during their 1,000-day journey in the program.

The overall goal is to achieve a permanent solution to family homelessness, not just a short-term remedy. Your generosity will give a family the means to transform their lives and become productive members of our community. The children of these families need a stable environment to grow into our future workers, leaders, and parents. We are privileged to give a lasting gift to our community by investing in these homeless parents and children today.

Project Linus: Blankets for Children

The Project Linus ministry makes blankets for distribution to hospitalized children, abused children, and teens undergoing dialysis. Volunteers make blankets in their own homes using specific size and material specifications. The blankets are crocheted, knitted, or quilted based on the interest and skills of the volunteers. Twice a year the blanket makers gather for a coffee at St. Thomas More (STM) and bring their blankets. Tags and labels are affixed to the items in preparation for distribution.

Our group is celebrating its twelfth year as a member of STM's Social Ministries. It started with the small church community, "Understanding," and flourished since its beginnings. The national Project Linus organization, named for the Peanuts cartoon character, has chapters throughout the country. We are an adjunct of the San Diego Chapter of Project Linus. Our handmade blankets are distributed by authorized members of the chapter to hospitals in San Diego County. Our only stipulation is that they are given to children to keep as their own.

Flyers with detailed instructions for sizing and material content are available at the Parish Office or by contacting Mary Coxon at 760-599-8760. Blankets made at home are collected at Fall and Spring Coffees. Information about Coffee dates are given in the church bulletin.

Come join us at a Coffee to learn how you can help or call Mary Coxon.

Got COSTUME Jewelry?

Thank you ladies for your tremendous support of my costume jeweled Christmas tree project for the 2012 Golf Classic Auction. I will be able to use a lot of the pieces you have already given and also able to pass along several items for the upcoming Treasures 2011 Flea Market.

There are a few more specific pieces I am looking for—if you have any “Avon” Christmas jewelry or other Christmas themed pieces you are no longer wanting in your jewelry collection, that will finish my search. Production of the tree will start soon, so if you could take just one more look in your collection, I'd greatly appreciate it. It will be so exciting to see the finished product and how you made this beautiful tree come to life.

You may bring your COSTUME jewelry to the parish office during the week. Visit www.stmoside.org/golf to see a full-color rendition of a completed tree.

EXPLORING THE MASS — PART 1

Every few months, someone comes up to me about something that has appeared on this page, and tells me that they appreciated being reminded of a tidbit of information forgotten from their Confirmation preparation many years ago. I am glad to help out. Most of these pages are the result of research I have had to do to learn something new, or to remember something long forgotten.

For the past few months, I have been thinking about and studying the Mass in preparation for the introduction of the 3rd edition of the Roman Missal in Advent. Roman Missal 3.0 has certainly caused discussion in some Catholic circles, so I thought it would be a good idea to review the parts of the Mass with the intent of gaining a better understanding of what we do each week (or day) and why we do it.

In his introduction to At the Supper of the Lamb, Rev. Paul Turner writes:

On that day when those invited come to feast at the supper of the Lamb,...there will be joy, celebration, music, silence, dialogue, acclamation, and prayer. All will be swept up in the glory of God. No one will have to learn what to do.

But until that day, we mortals gather at the supper of the Lamb on earth...to worship God as best we can. For now, we all have to learn what to do.

So, for the next few weeks, we will be having a refresher course on the Mass, revisiting its overall form and specific parts, reminding ourselves some of the things we learned all those years ago.

This discussion is adapted from Paul Turner's book, At the Supper of the Lamb, Amy Florian's book The Mass, the General Instruction of the Roman Missal, and Sing to the Lord: Music in Divine Worship, the last two prepared by the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops.

Taking a look at the overall structure, we see that the Mass is divided into four parts:

- Introductory Rites
- Liturgy of the Word
- Liturgy of the Eucharist
- Concluding Rites

Each part is further divided into sections that weave together to form a single unified liturgical action.

Each week, we will examine a part of the Mass and some or all of its sections (depending on space). We will examine how they relate to each other and to the Mass as a whole.

I look forward to sharing this journey with you and offering some of the information and insight I have found over the past few months. If you have questions as we go along, let me know, and we can explore them in subsequent weeks.

Next week: Introductory Rites

Wiggling in Worship?

To the Parents of our young children, may we suggest:

Relax! God put the wiggle in children; don't feel you have to suppress it in God's house. All are welcome!

Sit toward the front where it's easier for your little ones to see and hear what's going on at the altar. They tire of seeing the backs of others' heads.

Explain (quietly) the parts of the Mass and the actions of the priest, altar servers, choir, etc.

Sing the hymns. Pray the prayers. Voice the responses. Children learn liturgical behavior by copying you.

If you have to leave Mass, feel free to do so, but please come back. As Jesus said, "Let the children come to me."

To the rest of us:

The presence of children is a gift to the Church, and they are a reminder that we are growing.

Remember that the way we welcome our children in liturgy directly affects the way they respond to God, to the Church, and to one another. Let them know that they are welcome in this house of worship.

Please welcome our children and give a smile of encouragement to their parents.

Welcome, Autumn, arms full of summer's blessings, carrying the seeds of life for next year's planting.
Come, enter my home with your golden wisdom;
be my guest and share my table.

Welcome, Old Wise One,
may I be your student in the school of gratitude.
Guide me in reflecting upon the summer now gone,
that I might give thanks for all the many gifts that have enriched me in that season of growth.

I greet you, spirits of darkness that dwell in the night and within me.
While you are frightening, you are also a source of power;
may I not fear you
but learn to live in holy harmony with you;
you are not evil unless you dominate me.
Night within me, I welcome you as well;
may all your spirits that reside in me live in harmony with the Spirit of the Holy.

Amen.

CHRISTIAN STEWARDSHIP

A Prayer for September

Loving Father,

A world made in your image and likeness is desperate for your healing touch.

It is a place where people do not have enough water, or enough food, or enough medicine even though there is enough of these things in the world.

It is a realm where people hunger for freedom and are tortured and killed for this yearning.

It is a world where there is much anger and hatred, distrust and little peace.

We ourselves tend to avoid those we don't know, those who don't look like us, or think like us, or worship like us.

And yet you call to us to be good stewards of our neighbors;
to love them as we love ourselves;
to love them with greater hearts than we can imagine.

Give us the courage we need to be better stewards of our neighbors;
and to believe what you tell us,
that you will give us everything we need to love in your name, so your healing may truly be made manifest in this world.

We pray this through Christ our Lord. Amen.

Marriage & Family Life Corner

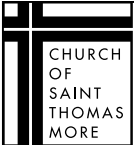

The Bishops' Letter on Marriage—Responsible Parenthood:

“[Finally], living according to God’s design for love and life does not mean that married couples cannot plan their families. The principle of responsible parenthood describes the way spouses can work with God’s gift of fertility. Spouses can recognize their own duties towards God, themselves, their families and human society as they decide when to try to achieve a pregnancy or conclude that there are sufficiently serious reasons to justify postponing one.” To read the document go to <http://www.usccb.org/loveandlife/>.

Marriage Moments—When good secretaries take a message they always repeat the telephone number and summarize the message. Your spouse deserves similar service. “Now you said ... Did I get it right?” Saves a lot of misunderstandings and mix-ups.

Parenting Pointers—Next Monday is National Family Day. The focus is on eating together with your children. If your children are young, this is easy. They need you to cook. If they are older, make an effort to eat together—if not Monday, one day next week.
