Pastor's Column

Our New Crucifix

Last weekend, as we celebrated the feast of our Patron, St. Thomas More, we also welcomed the recently-created crucifix that will grace our new Church.

Lynn Kircher, www.kirchersculpture.com, the artist who created our crucifix, accompanied it from his studio in Colorado to Oceanside, and oversaw, with the help of Brian Leahey, our Director of Construction, and a number of Parishioners, the attachment to the cross and then its erection in our present worship space on Saturday, June 22.

Special thanks is given to our Parishioner, Martin Zschoche, who created the cross for the corpus!

The crucifix will remain in our present worship space until the Church is ready to accept it. At that time, the corpus will be placed on its permanent cross which is being designed by our architect, Renzo Zecchetto, www.zecchetto.com.

The Interior Design Team (IDT) which has been meeting monthly for about nine years spent much time in determining the "moment" of Jesus' time on the cross that we wanted to portray on our crucifix.

Many crucifixes in many churches image a Jesus that is already dead. His head is hung down, and it is obvious that he has already died.

The IDT wanted to portray a Jesus that was still alive on the cross, not yet dead. We wanted him looking upward to the heavens.

The artist, Lynn Kircher, and the architect, Renzo Zecchetto, collaborated to implement the ideas of the IDT. Jesus, on the cross, would be looking up, and in the new Church, he will be looking into natural light which will be flowing through a window strategically placed for this purpose.

This moment of crucifixion portrays the idea that Jesus, while in the midst of his suffering is looking beyond the present moment. He is trusting in the Father, believing that the promise of the Father would be fulfilled.

Jesus is in the present moment, yet he sees beyond. The hand of Jesus reaching upwards to the sky is a gesture of thanksgiving, aliveness, purpose, and looking beyond death, and placing his life once again in the Father's hands.

Jesus is in the present moment, but because of his faith, is beyond, in that new place where all tears will be wiped away.

The "Seven Last Words" are the phrases which Jesus uttered while hanging on the cross. They can be found if one reads all four Gospels.

Of the seven phrases, four are directed to the Father. As we reflect upon our new crucifix, because of the crosses we may be carrying in our lives at the time we reflect upon the crucifix, hopefully, we can join Jesus in his prayer directed to the Father. His prayer can be our prayer:

Father, forgive them, for they do not know what they do...

My God, my God, why have you forsaken me?

Father, into your hands I commend my spirit...

It is finished...

As Pastor, my prayer is that all who will look on our crucifix will see in it a symbol of hope – helping one to always move beyond the present moment with its hardships and difficulties, to what lies beyond, the Resurrection and new life where all tears will be wiped away.

Our new crucifix is still in need of a Memorial donor or donors. It is being offered for $75,000.

Also, Lynn Kircher had cast forty replicas of our crucifix. They are nine-inch replicas and were offered for $750. Lynn only charged us for materials, as his gift to help us in our fundraising.

Presently all forty replicas have been reserved! Lynn is willing to cast more. So we have created a waiting list. If we have the interest of at least twenty more people, Lynn will cast more. The cost would be the same - $750.

If you are interested, please contact Chris Smith, our Director of Stewardship and Development. She will give you all the details, as well as payment plans.

This is an exciting time in our Parish history! Let us enjoy these days...

Marriage & Family Life

Could your marriage use a tune-up?

Ever wonder where the love and passion went? Looking for date night ideas? Interested in what the Bible says about marriage? Bishops' Letter on Marriage

The Vocation: "Become what you are! This might be a great exhortation to newly married couples, especially given the strong tendency nowadays to reduce the love of the marriage bond to only a feeling, perhaps the romantic love of courtship and honeymoon. When that feeling dries up, it may seem to them that they have nothing left and that they have failed. It is at these very times, however, that their vocation as spouses calls them to go further, to 'become what they are,' members of a marital communion defined by the unbreakable spousal love of Christ for his Church." To read the document go to <http://www.usccb.org/loveandlife/>.

Marriage Moments— We remember what we want to hear. For example, recently my husband asked me to take out the compost after dinner. I unintentionally but conveniently "forgot" because it was rainy and I figured it could probably wait another day. Sound at all familiar? By Susan Vogt, www.SusanVogt.net

Parenting Pointers—Celebrate "Gratitude Day". Share with your family all the things for which you are grateful: our minds, our hearts, health, food, time to work, someone who loves you, a pet having a God who loves and forgives, ... Spirited Senior News

Jerry and I have decided to resign after 5 years of serving as Co-Chairs of the Spirited Seniors. It has been a wonderful and memorable experience.

We want to give special thanks to our devoted and hard-working board: Lee Cocco, Jim and Marilyn Day, Nancy Gayvert, Richard and Siggie Ogan, and Pat St. Pierre. Jerry and I greatly appreciate your continued enthusiasm and participation.

We give many thanks to all the Spirited Seniors and their friends who supported our various activities over these years. We have met some marvelous people.

Our sincere thanks to Lorraine Doering for designing the many beautiful bulletin inserts for our events, printing up bulletin articles, and the membership letters. You have a magic touch. Thanks also go to Henny Jocelyn who scheduled our activities and saw to it the service request forms were completed properly.

Thanks to Fr. Mike for his delightful presence at many of our activities.

Jerry and I are pleased to welcome Jim and Marilyn Day as the new Co-Chairs of the Spirited Seniors as of July 1, 2013. Our best wishes to both of you for great success.

Please watch the bulletin for information on our free ice cream social in September.

Peace and Happiness,

Jerry and Judy Buoniconti

Annual Catholic Appeal

The Diocesan Catholic Appeal (ACA) continues. Money raised throughout the Diocese supports the ongoing ministries of the Diocese. Our fair share assessment is $48,000. Presently we have raised $46,598, given by 369 families. Thanks to all who have contributed! We still need $1,402—can you help?

Need Help with Transportation to Church!

Volunteer drivers are needed in our Parish. Some Parishioners would like to attend Mass and cannot drive themselves. Please prayerfully consider helping some of our fellow Parishioners. If you can help in any way with this service, please contact Ann Eriksson 760-599-7151 or eriksson1@mindspring.com.

Vocations

In today's Gospel, some who wanted to follow Jesus could not separate themselves from their secular life. Do you feel a call to serve God as a priest, deacon or religious but are afraid you may not be able to give up your secular life? Contact Deacon Tom at thomasgoeltz@aol.com or 760-727-8442 and we will try to help you in your discernment. No matter your decision, God loves you!

St. Bonaventure Clothing Drive

St. Bonaventure Mission mainly serves the Navaho Nation on about 100 sq. miles of the largest reservation in the country. Unemployment on the reservation is approximately 60% and most of the people live below the poverty line. St. Thomas More Parish's clothing drive held in the fall is the largest donation of clothing received by the Mission. Please help us "cloth the naked" by your donation of clean, serviceable clothing in this year's fall drive. I'll have a firm date for the drive soon. Thanks for your help.—Deacon Tom Goeltz

Memorial Item Donations

Memorials are a way of honoring those whom we love, whether they are living or deceased. Often, memorials are made for a special intention or in thanksgiving for a variety of blessings received from God.

Our Parish Campus will be a living memorial. All who help in building it will leave something to the community itself that will be used by generations to come. The good they do is not interred with them, but will remain to share in the divine activity of God here on earth.

Listed below are items still available for adoption.

All contributions will be recognized in a special memorial to be displayed in our Parish Memorial Garden.

For more information or to adopt an item, contact Chris Smith

DISCIPLESHIP 101

Scripture themes for July

by Patricia Datchuck
Sánchez and Rafael
Sánchez Alonso,
excerpted from Celebration
July 2013,
with permission.

“What a great gift it would be if we could see a little of the great vision of Jesus—if we could see beyond our small lives. Certainly, our view is very limited. But we can at least ask him to call us out of our small worlds and our self-centeredness, and we can at least ask to feel the challenge of the great harvest that must be gathered—the harvest of all nations and all people, including the generations of the future.”

These are the words of J. Heinrich Arnold, a member of and pastor for the Bruderhof communities, whose members spend their lives attempting to realize the vision of Jesus by living each moment as his disciples. In his book Discipleship: Living for Christ in the Daily Grind, Arnold suggests that those who wish to be Jesus’ disciples have to make room for him so he can live in them (Plough Pub. House, Farmington, Pa.: 1994).

In this vein, Luke offers his readers a four-week course this month; we could call it “Discipleship 101.” Each lesson is already known to us, but just as we keep our job skills sharp by periodic refresher seminars, so we keep our hearts centered on Jesus and our hands ready for service by encountering reminders of who has called us and shared his vision with us.

On July 7, the Lucan Jesus reminds us that he sends us forth to preach and to live this good news. Faith is not a sedentary effort. Our missiology is to be a mobile one, conducted simply and without an excess of provisions. Content with whatever people share, we do not make demands about our preferences. When they extend no welcome, we move on, eager to plant the seeds of the Word in anyone who will listen. It is noteworthy that Jesus sent his disciples forth in pairs so that each might encourage the other to persevere.

Our priorities are challenged by the Lucan Jesus on July 14. In the narrative of the Good Samaritan, we hear Jesus holding up the kindness of a hated “foreigner” as an example of the goodness to which Jesus’ disciples are called. Others also passed by, but they did not help the man who had been robbed and beaten. Through their example, Jesus’ disciples learn that nothing is more important or more urgent than the needs of a brother or sister in need. We also learn that “God comes to us daily in unexpected encounters with unexpected people, and, if we are on the ball, we will not ignore them” (Barbara Brown Taylor, The Preaching Life, Cowley, New York: 1993). Through our concern for those we encounter, we are, as Jesus has said, ministering to Jesus himself. When we choose to ignore the needy, or when we excuse ourselves from their care for whatever reason, we ignore the very one we are trying to emulate.

In another uniquely Lucan narrative, Jesus’ disciples will become reacquainted with Mary and her sister Martha (July 21). Again, the story challenges our priorities as disciples. While Martha busied herself with offering Jesus and his disciples the utmost hospitality, Mary understood that when Jesus is present, he is the host as well as the teacher and mentor. Therefore, she sat at Jesus’ feet and listened. Often presented as a comparison between the active life and the contemplative one, the narrative of Martha and Mary does not represent an either/or but a both/and situation, where disciples of Jesus are called to fuel their ministry with daily prayerful listening at Jesus’ feet. Without frequent trips to the well of worship, ministers can easily become discouraged, disillusioned, and burnt out.

That is why the final lesson offered to us by the Lucan Jesus is so important. To inspire and empower them, and to keep them in that close communion without which a disciple cannot survive, Jesus taught his own to pray (July 28). In words most intimate, Jesus encouraged—and continues to encourage—his disciples to call on God as “Father” or, more correctly, as “Abba,” “Papa,” “Daddy.” He urges his own to rely on God for the daily bread that nourishes both body and spirit. He encourages every disciple to ask for forgiveness and to be willing to “bestow” the gift of forgiveness upon others without resentment or reserve. There, in order to drive home the need for persistent prayer, Jesus offers the example of a friend making an inconvenient request at an inconvenient time. With God, there is never an inconvenient time or request. Ever the good Father, ever the loving Brother, ever the abiding Spirit, God always hears those who ask, opens to those who knock, and gives without measure to those in need. In this every disciple can trust. Amen.

Dear Parishioners,

What a terrific response to our request for VBS help. . .YOU are an awesome parish family!

If there are some who would still like to help us prepare for our 225 participants, here are our needs:

- ◆ We've had requests for help with the $50 registration fee. . .would you like to sponsor a Bible-camper?
- ◆ There are food request slips still in need of shoppers. . .we are delighted to do the shopping for you with money or Walmart gift card donations
- ◆ There are other items to donate or lend us that can be found at the VBS table after Sunday Mass or on the table on the lower level during the week.

At Kingdom Rock VBS, children don't just hear about God's love; they see it, touch it, sing it, taste it, and put it into action through God Sightings. As they travel from station to station, they go deeper into their understanding of God.

Thank you for helping us make this happen!

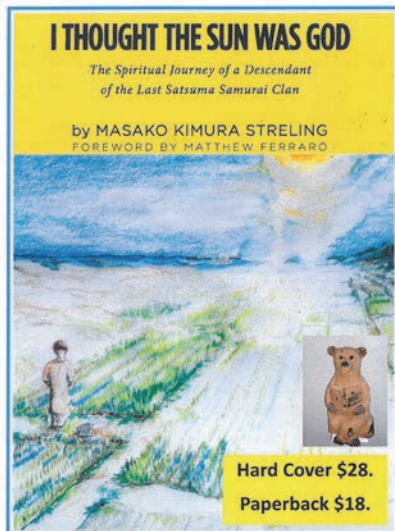

Sincerely,

Kathleen

Our next book for discussion is

I Thought the Sun Was God.

The author of this book is our very own parishioner, Masako Streling. Since it was recently published, many of our parish family have been looking forward to reading it.

The book is available at the Parish Office. The hard cover books is $28.00 and the paperback is $18.00. Get your copy soon and begin reading. We will schedule a discussion in late August.

Christian Stewardship Future Planning

In 2008, a pastor of a city church became acquainted with one of his parishioners. During the pastor's conversation with this parishioner, he discovered that the man owned a considerable amount of property and that he had no will.

The pastor told the parishioner that he wasn't so much concerned as to where he left his money, but he should have a will. The parishioner was not married nor did he have any known relatives.

Two years later, at age 67, the parishioner was in an automobile accident and died from the injuries he sustained. The pastor was given a copy of this man's will during the probate and in the will it stated that he had left one-half of his estate to his parish. The estate was valued at more than 2 million dollars.

This city parish, struggling to maintain its programs and buildings, received over one million dollars because the pastor had encouraged his parishioner to consider making out a will.

Christians, even of modest means, realize that the worth of the possessions they've accumulated during their earthly lives can do no greater good after death than to assist in the work of the Lord and to continue to give glory to his name. —Parish Publishing LLC, Stewardship June 2013 (with permission)

As we move through the summer months, our thoughts turn to a slower pace (hopefully!) and taking some time out for recreation and rejuvenation. Often this time includes friends and family, and includes our faith family as well. All of these are important.

The tendency exists, for some of us, to delay estate planning for a later date when we feel we are near death. The fact is that we don't know the time or place that God calls us home.

No matter the size of your estate, or how you would like all of it to be handled when you die, it is a kindness to handle those details and have that in place. Probate is a lengthy and difficult process that happens when we fail to plan ahead.

Please prayerfully consider handling estate planning in advance. Feel free to contact me for information regarding options.

Chris

Have a relaxed and blessed summer!

TOWERS OF FAITH Future Support & Estate Planning Options

Towers of Faith is a movement that has arisen due to the visionary leadership and generosity of several of our Parishioners. We stress that this is not about the gift amount, but rather the love and thought behind the gift.

These individuals (several anonymous) have included STM in their estate planning. This helps to ensure their ongoing support and a legacy for our Parish. Towers of Faith is a valuable portion of our future support.

Examples of the various future planning vehicles are:
Designated Beneficiary Accounts,
Last Will and Testament, Living Trust, Life Insurance, Stocks and Bonds, Real Estate, and Endowments.

Any Parishioners who have already included STM in their estate plans are Towers of Faith participants. If you are interested, please contact us. Your participation is most welcome and appreciated!

Chris Smith at 760-758-4100 x120 or chriss@stmoside.org.

Do two people in your family know the location of your will and/or living trust?
