What Ways of Thinking Do We Bring to Our Political Discussions?

As we end this month of October, we are mindful that we have been celebrating and promoting this month as "Respect Life!" As Catholics, we are a people who believe in life and the promotion and protection of life from womb to tomb.

We have two major political parties in our country—the Republicans and the Democrats—and both parties are courting the Catholic vote. Sadly, but in truth, we must admit that neither party is pro-life as the Catholic Church is pro-life. We see pro-life stances in both political parties, but we also see anti pro-life choices in both parties. Neither of the major political parties reflects the pro-life stance of the Catholic Church.

Yet, as Catholics, we must exercise our responsibilities and duties as citizens of this country. We must take the values of the Catholic Church, and through our informed consciences, vote for the candidates and positions that best reflect a consistent pro-life ethic. This becomes an issue of conscience and not political party affiliation.

I share with you these "10 Questions for the Campaign" that came to us from the Administrative Committee of the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops in their statement, "The Challenge of Faithful Citizenship—A Catholic Call to Political Responsibility." Although these questions were created over ten years ago, they are still very relevant as we think through our political positions, choose political candidates, and make our choices based on informed Catholic Teaching and the use of our conscience.

1. After September 11, how can we build not only a safer world, but a better world—more just, more secure, more peaceful, more respectful of human life and dignity?
2. How will we protect the weakest in our midst—innocent unborn children? How can our nation not turn to violence to solve some of its most difficult problems—abortion to deal with difficult pregnancies; the death penalty to combat crime; euthanasia and assisted suicide to deal with the burdens of age, illness, and disability; and war to address international disputes?

3. How will we address the tragic fact that more than 30,000 children die every day as a result of hunger, international debt, and lack of development around the world?
4. How can our nation help parents raise their children with respect for life, sound moral values, a sense of hope, and an ethic of stewardship and responsibility? How can our society defend the central institution of marriage and better support families in their moral responsibilities?
5. How will we address the growing number of people without affordable and accessible health care? How can health care better protect human life and respect human dignity?
6. How will our society combat continuing prejudice, overcome hostility toward immigrants and refugees, and heal the wounds of racism, religious bigotry, and discrimination?
7. How will our nation pursue the values of justice and peace in a world where injustice is common, desperate poverty widespread, and peace too often overwhelmed by violence?
8. What are the responsibilities and limitations of families, community organizations, markets, and government? How can these elements of society work together to overcome poverty, pursue the common good, and care for creation?
9. When should our nation use, or avoid the use of military force—for what purpose, under what authority, and at what human cost?
10. How can we join with other nations to lead the world to greater respect for human life and dignity, religious freedom and democracy, economic justice, and care for God's creation?

None of these questions are easy to answer! Pray. Spend time and energy in creating an informed conscience that will influence your political thinking...

World Mission Sunday

Each year we celebrate World Mission Sunday in October by praying for the missionaries and contributing to support them. This year we are invited to act in solidarity with the missionaries in India and throughout the world. Every day, faithful missionaries are reaching out in the name of Christ, offering practical, emotional, and spiritual care to communities, children, and families in desperate need, bringing the light of Christ to the darkest of circumstances. Please remember these missionaries in your prayers and use the envelope attached to the bulletin recently to make a contribution toward their work. The envelopes may be returned any time during the month of October. For more information, and to see a video, visit www.IAmAMissionary.org. To make a donation online, visit www.helpthemissions.org.

They Are Remembered...

Commemoration of All the Faithful Departed

You are invited to attend our annual Mass to remember and celebrate the lives of our loved ones who have passed through death to new life during this past year. The Mass will be celebrated Saturday, November 2, at 9:00am on the upper level of the Parish Center.

During the month of November, the church traditionally remembers those who have gone before us to new life. There will be a special book for you to write the names of your loved ones, located in the center aisle at the Mass and then will be located near the alcove for the statue of Mary for the rest of the month. Join us in praying: Holy Mary, Gentle Mother, gather within your arms those who have died, and intercede for those who mourn them. Amen.

All Souls Envelopes

Envelopes for remembering the dearly departed were attached to the bulletin recently and are also available at the information table on the Plaza. Envelopes returned by November 1 will be placed on the altar during the month of November.

Engaging Spirituality Begins in January 2014

Are you thirsty for God and hungry for justice in the world? While many in our world are starved of adequate nourishment, respect, and dignity, we all hunger to live deep and meaningful lives. Engaging Spirituality is a prayerful small group journey that invites us to draw the world—with all its beauty and brokenness—down into ourselves, to hold it in prayer together, and to practice living deeply and loving broadly. Watch the bulletin in the coming weeks for more information.

St. Bonaventure Clothing Drive

November 9 and 10 marks our drive to collect clothing (all types and sizes) shoes and blankets to help the poor at St. Bonaventure Mission at all the Masses. Please place the clothing, etc., in a black trash bag and drop it off at the truck we will have waiting. Your generosity over the past 17 years has been great. This is the only dedicated clothing drive for the mission and they count on us each year. Any questions, contact Deacon Tom at thomasgoeltz@aol.com or call 760-727-8442. Thank you.

STM Vehicle Donation Program

Do you have a vehicle you want to donate?

The St. Thomas More program is easy!

Call us, and we'll have it picked up.

You get the tax deduction!

All we need is clear title. Non-operational is OK!

Since 2006 we have netted over $37,800 from this program. Thank you donors!

Marriage Moments—"Two people went up to the temple area to pray." (Luke 18:10) Which of you is the better prayer? It is time for our fall blood drive. The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be here in the parking lot on Sunday, November 3, 8:30am-2:30pm. Please be generous. Sign ups will be on the Plaza after all Masses on the weekend of October 19-20 and October 26-27. For more information, contact Linda Dicus at 760-726-5081.

Christmas Angel Ministry

Yes, Christmas decorations are in the stores already! And that means it's time for the STM Christmas Angel Ministry to start planning for this 2013-2014 season. How can we better serve the children through local community organizations and our military families at Camp Pendleton? Did you know there are plenty of simple, non time-consuming opportunities within this ministry? There's a lot going on behind the scenes to make it all come together. Be a part of a rewarding, well-received program to spread the joy of Christmas and share our abundant blessings with others.

Women's Guild News

It is time already to think about our November meeting. It will have a patriotic theme and we look forward to having a high-ranking retired member of the armed forces with us to share her experience as a leader in the U.S. Army. We want to celebrate all our veterans, but especially the women in their ranks who protect and have protected our life and liberty in the past. Please call in your RSVP for lunch to our hospitality chairperson Vera Bayliss at 760-295-0059. As a backup, contact me at 760-726-8831.

If you are or were a woman member of the armed forces, please join us on November 11 for lunch as our guest. Call Kathy Gerhard at 760-732-5951.

The Knightly News

Our Oktoberfest BBQ last Sunday was an overwhelming success. After expenses, $335 was raised to benefit La Posada de Guadalupe men's shelter. One thing the Knights have learned from this is to not underestimate the great generosity of the Parishioners of St. Thomas More. Our sincere thanks to all of you for your support. God Bless!

Need Help with Transportation to Church!

Volunteer drivers are needed in our Parish. Some Parishioners would like to attend Mass and cannot drive themselves. Please prayerfully consider helping some of our fellow Parishioners. If you can help in any way with this service, please contact Ann Eriksson 760-599-7151 or eriksson1@mindspring.com.

Memorial Item Donations

Memorials are a way of honoring those whom we love, whether they are living or deceased. Often, memorials are made for a special intention or in thanksgiving for a variety of blessings received from God.

Our Parish Campus will be a living memorial. All who help in building it will leave something to the community itself that will be used by generations to come. The good they do is not interred with them, but will remain to share in the divine activity of God here on earth.

Listed below are items still available for adoption.

All contributions will be recognized in a special memorial to be displayed in our Parish Memorial Garden.

OF SAINTS AND SOULS

Jerusalem new and old

by David Philippart, from Celebration
November 2013,
with permission.

November brings the year of grace to its fulfillment. (And in 2013, the month itself is full: Advent does not begin until November's ultimate hour, sunset on Saturday the 30th.) The twin festivals of All Saints and All Souls usher in the month. Together with the Sunday readings from Luke's Gospel, they center us in Jerusalem.

The stunning and compelling vision of a New Jerusalem in the Book of Revelation—from which comes the first reading for All Saints Day, the very first scripture proclaimed in the month—is November's leitmotif and life's goal. It is for this that we set out back on January 27, when we opened the Gospel of Luke at its beginning. We began Ordinary Time back then hearing Jesus proclaim, "Today this scripture is being fulfilled in your midst!"

All Saints Day was born of Easter in the fourth century. Many Eastern churches still keep it on the Sunday after Pentecost; the Syrian liturgy, on the Friday of Easter Week. In the churches of the West, it migrated to November 1 in the middle of the eighth century, ostensibly to baptize old Celtic practices of feasting the dead. Now it lays open for us the deep meaning of November: that it is in dying that we are born to eternal life. The saints are the community of those dressed in baptism's robes, robes washed white in the blood of the Lamb. The Lamb is both temple and lamp at the center of the New Jerusalem. "Its gates will never be shut by day, and there will be no night there" (Rev 21:25). To enter those gates, open to all, to find that eternal day, promised to all, we must pass as a community through the many Jerusalems of this world.

So November's first Sunday, November 3, tells of Zacchaeus, and the words of Jesus give the liturgies of November their power: "Today salvation has come into this house!" (Think of the church's house, in which you celebrate the liturgy. Think, too, of the many homes of the Parish.) After Zacchaeus descends from the tree to meet and follow him (the beginning of Luke 19), Jesus enters the earthly Jerusalem in triumph (in the middle of Luke 19, which we last read Palm Sunday). He directly challenges the corrupt marriage of organized religion and political oppression by cleansing the temple of the moneychangers (at the end of Luke 19). In the Gospel of November's last Sunday, November 24, the One who called Zacchaeus to come down and confront his own inner life ascends the tree of the cross, having walked the way of tears through Jerusalem out to Golgotha (Luke 23). To get to the New Jerusalem, we pass through the old.

The Gospels of the middle two Sundays are preludes to the Passion. Here, let us bring all the sorrow of the losses we mourned on All Souls Day. On these Sundays, we also read from 2 Thessalonians, concerning the return of Christ at the end of time. Here, let us find the hope born of all that sorrow. Looking back at Christ's passion, looking forward to Christ's return, today—in these liturgies of November—salvation comes to this house! We continue to read from 2 Thessalonians on the last Sunday of November, the Solemnity of Our Lord Jesus Christ, King of the Universe. Despite this title, which sounds almost comicbook-like to modern ears, the reign of Christ over, in, and throughout all creation is what the liturgical year is all about: "Christ yesterday and today, the beginning and the end. ... All times belong to Christ, and all the ages, to whom be glory and power through every age

RCIA

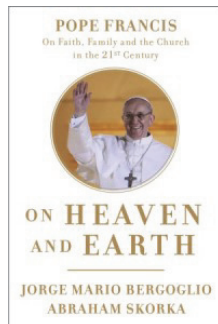

Our Parish is delighted to welcome four new members into our community as we celebrate the Rite of Welcome at the 5:00pm Mass this weekend.

Rich Antle, Al Fortaliza, Joe Garcia, and Johnny Mills have discerned the action of the Holy Spirit in their lives and wish to complete their initiation into the Catholic Church.

Let us surround them with hospitality and love while offering them the example of our Christ-centered lives in action and liturgy.

Fr. Mike's Bookies

Our next book
for reading and discussion is On Heaven and Earth
by Pope Francis

From the man who became Pope Francis, Jorge Mario Bergoglio shares his thoughts on religion, reason, and the challenges the world faces in the 21st century with Abraham Skorka, a rabbi and biophysicist.

For years Cardinal Jorge Mario Bergoglio, archbishop of Argentina, and Rabbi Abraham Skorka were tenacious promoters of interreligious dialogues on faith and reason. They both sought to build bridges among Catholicism, Judaism, and the world at large.

The hardcover book is available at the Parish Office for $16. It is also available for $9.78 on Kindle through Amazon.com, as well as for other e-readers at your device's online store..

Hallowed Transitions

If March is both lion and lamb, then surely October has a dual nature too. It enters with a riotous bonfire of color, only to exit in the somber brown ash of leaves. While March graciously departs in the greening hope of spring, October absconds with light, warmth, and cheer, slamming its chilly door on the way out. It's no accident that All Hallows' Eve has the final word on this darkening month. In the end, we're left to entertain our demons, soon to turn our thoughts toward departed souls.

October is a dress rehearsal for growing up and growing old. It's nature's blueprint for hallowed, haloed transitions. Trees model our surrender, a brilliant show, followed by beauty's quiet capitulation. Nothing gold can stay, as Robert Frost once sighed. Some folks will opt to rage, rage against the transformation. Yet the huggable child still gives way to the moat-encircled teen, just as every caterpillar needs its chrysalis. Today's high school jock encapsulates tomorrow's dad and granddad. Each newly minted journalist will one day surrender her keyboard. All this, we know, is a good thing. We could do worse than imitate the trees, embracing each season's horizon with a lover's tenderness, then bidding each farewell with confidence and grace.

So let us age—whatever our age!—since time seems determined to push forward. Let's cheerfully bid farewell to smooth skin, magnificent passions, and boundless energies in due season. Let's embrace the wisdom born of years and experiences and not a few failures. May we come to appreciate a cooler head and tougher heart, slower impulses and faster second thoughts.

And yes, let the demons of year's end come and we'll host them; pouring tea while they speak their names and remind us of what we did and failed to do. The past is past, and ghosts of shame and regret can't scare us as they once did. We might remind them of who we are today: not just aging sinners but also mellowing saints. The surrender of all flesh is surely up ahead somewhere. But in the meantime, stand back and show your autumn fire!

Trick or Treat Stewardship

On October 31, little goblins and princesses descend upon our doorsteps seeking treats and goodies. If we think about it, our relationship with God is sometimes like that Halloween tradition. We, like children on Halloween, eagerly come to God's doorstep when we want something.

We come to God for blessings, requests of help for ourselves or someone else, for strength in times of trouble, and, most importantly, for the gift of Jesus Christ in the Eucharist at Mass. All of these are available to us if we but knock at God's door. Are we to be like children who continually ask for more without ever thinking about God's will for us and the gifts he gives us?

If our relationship with God is based solely on our asking and God giving, we are like the neighborhood children coming to our door for candy. There is no relationship. God is always at the door waiting for us to knock. He wants to give us love, joy, faith, and blessings. God is like the neighbor who does not give just one candy bar per child but who dumps a whole handful of candy into each bag.

However, unlike candy on Halloween, God's gifts come with a purpose and responsibility. God does not give us His gifts just to keep to ourselves. He gives them to us to be shared, and shared abundantly, with others. With love and generosity the gifts are given so with love and generosity they are to be shared.

Everything we have, including our time and talents, are gifts from God. They are given and meant to be shared. As recipients of God's gifts, we are not to use them solely for our own benefit, but use them for the benefit of others, as Jesus instructed us.

As we stand at the doorstep of God to receive God's gifts, we must receive them graciously, cultivate them responsibly, share them with others in love and justice, and return a fitting portion back to God in gratitude. If we do this, we are no longer just neighborhood children knocking on God's door, but truly His sons and daughters.
