Ascension

"Jesus Was Lifted Up, and a Cloud Took Him from Their Sight"

When we celebrate the Feast of the Ascension, we celebrate the absence of Jesus. He is physically gone from us. He is no longer with us as he once was.

When we celebrate the Feast of Pentecost, the gift of the Holy Spirit, we celebrate the presence of Jesus in the new way in which he remains with the Church, until the end of time.

The gift of the Spirit is a profound realization that the Church is the Body of Christ. The Church is Jesus for this time and this place. It is the Church that continues the Mission and Ministry of Jesus in the here and now, in and through our flesh.

This distinction is at the heart of Christianity. Our God is not just "up in heaven." We are not theists that believe only in a God totally transcendent from us.

Our God is not only transcendent but also imminent. Our God is "down here on earth among us."

Christianity is incarnational. God is in our flesh and bones and comes to the world through us.

This distinction is the difference between theism and Christianity. Fr. Ronald Rolheiser, in The Holy Longing, describes it this way:

If my mother is sick and I pray that she gets better, but do not drive her to see the doctor, I have prayed as a theist, not as a Christian.

I have not given an incarnational flesh, skin, to my prayer. It is more difficult for God to answer such a prayer.

If I see a colleague or friend who looks depressed and pray for her, but do not speak to her, then I am praying like a theist, not as a Christian.

How is God supposed to console her? Send her an e-mail from heaven?

It is my voice and my compassion that is called for since I am a part of the Body of Christ, am praying, precisely through the Body of Christ, and am there, available to talk to her.

If I pray for a close friend but do not send him a postcard to tell him I am thinking about him, how is that prayer supposed to touch him?

If I pray for world peace, but do not, inside myself, forgive those who have hurt me, how can God bring about peace on this planet?

Our prayer needs our flesh to back it up.

As we move through these feasts of Ascension and Pentecost, may we be mindful that if we are feeling the absence of Jesus in our lives and in our world, it is because we are not relying upon the insight and strength of the Holy Spirit and we are not backing up our prayer with our flesh!

If we are asking "Where is Jesus in all of this?" maybe we should be asking, "Where am I in all of this?"

In addition, those who like to plan ahead may meet with a Bereavement Team member to pre-plan preferences and place them on record, which can be a great help for children or other family members when the time comes.

*If you have any questions, call Sr. Maureen at Eucharistic Adoration is available Monday-Friday, 6:30am-7:30pm in our Blessed Sacrament Chapel. We are so blessed to be able to drop in at almost any time and have a little "one-on-one" with Jesus in the Reserved Eucharist.

Pope John Paul II stated that the practice provides contact with the "very wellspring of grace." Try it—you'll like it!

Watch for more thoughts and information on this subject in future bulletins...

Memorial Item Donations

Memorials are a way of honoring those whom we love, whether they are living or deceased. Often, memorials are made for a special intention or in thanksgiving for a variety of blessings received from God.

Our Parish Campus will be a living memorial. All who help in building it will leave something to the community itself that will be used by generations to come. The good they do is not interred with them, but will remain to share in the divine activity of God here on earth.

Listed below are items still available for adoption.

All contributions will be recognized in a special memorial to be displayed in our Parish Memorial Garden.

For more information or to adopt an item, contact Chris Smith

WORK OF HUMAN HANDS

by Melissa Musick
Nussbaum,
from Celebration
July 2014,
with permission.

I suppose my favorite Eucharistic Prayer is number three, or III, as it's titled in the Sacramentary. (Not that I have much chance to discuss this in the checkout line at the grocery store or during our annual neighborhood cookie exchange. We seem to be stuck on gluten—and all its lies and all its empty promises—just now. I keep waiting for a new translation of Genesis to be released, the one in which the serpent urges Eve to eat a baguette.)

But when I am with kindred spirits (you know, the kind of gathering where people wear big buttons that read “Carpet is for bedrooms, not churches”), we sometimes share our best-loved passages. This one caught me long ago and holds me fast:

*From age to age you gather
A people to yourself,
So that from east to west
A perfect offering may be made
To the glory of your name.*

I'm drawn to the patient immensity: God choosing, again and again, “from age to age,” to gather a people, gather them in close. “From east to west” we are gathered, out of every race and nation, so that “a perfect offering may be made” to God's holy name.

I like to think about perfect offerings: the sound of an all-day Sacred Harp singing, the voices raised in “David's Lamentation,” or “268 in the red book,” as it would be called out. I taste my mother's fried chicken and see my friend Val struggling to learn to stand and walk again after her stroke. I hear my friend Erma tell me, “No more dialysis.” She's ready to go. Perfect offerings, the work of human hands.

I wonder how the work of human hands can be considered perfect offerings. Then I remember that we call God father and mother. I think of John Ciardi's poem “Boy,” where a father is speaking of his son “in his room sulked shut.” Every parent knows the tears, the mucus, the whining, the angry words spat out from behind the closed door.

But the father in the poem describes his “sulked shut” son with these words: “his tears / as close to holy water as I recall / any first font shining.”

And that's the way of parents. They accept the strangled and hard-won “I'm sorry” as perfect contrition. They accept the glue-encrusted card with the lopsided heart as a perfect sentiment. They accept the naked dinosaur dance—“watch me twirl!”—as the perfect delight. All the smudges and cross-outs and chips and cracks and misspellings and tumbles and tears only make the gifts dearer.

Perhaps it's because, like a father, like a mother, God “gathers a people to yourself.” We are not at a distance, the proper perspective for critiques, but flesh to flesh, like a mother and her baby.

Researchers tell us that a newborn's sight is sharpest at the approximate distance from a mother's breast to her face. Nowhere does a newborn see more clearly than at his mother's breast, receiving the milk that gives him life.

That's the image I see when I hear those words: All of us gathered in to the full and welcoming breast of God. And if the image seems crowded and a little uncomfortable, like hamsters scrambling for a place at the mother's teats and being shoved off, I go farther into the prayer, where we pray,

*Grant that we, who are nourished
by his body and blood,
May be filled with his Holy Spirit,
And become one body, one spirit in Christ.*

“One body, one spirit,” plenty of room.

Matthew 28:20

But last Sunday I found myself rejoicing again in the Roman Canon, Eucharistic Prayer I. Usually the phrase “You know how firmly we believe in you” worries me. I fear God does know how firmly we believe, and the image that conjures up is me stepping out onto an ice-covered lake in mid-March. It looks frozen all right, but experience tells me the ice is thin and unstable, liable to collapse under my weight.

But I was kneeling beside my granddaughter, Lucy Cecilia, who is a sober and curious 4. She likes this prayer because she hears both her names spoken aloud by the priest. I catch Lucy's expectation, her happy waiting.

*For ourselves, too, we ask Some share in the fellowship of
your apostles and martyrs,
With John the Baptist, Stephen,
Matthias, Barnabas,
Ignatius, Alexander, Marcellinus,
Peter,
Felicity, Perpetua, Agatha,
Lucy, Agnes, Cecilia, Anastasia
And all the saints.*

We smile at one another when we get to “Lucy” and then “Cecilia.” Then I feel Lucy tugging on my hand. I lean down and she whispers, excited, “Ma-Maw, did you hear him say ‘Agatha’? She's the patron of firefighters. My mama told me.”

I did not know that. I was glad to learn. Glad, most of all, to be given the word by sweet Lucy. A perfect offering.

TOWERS OF FAITH

Future Support & Estate Planning Options

Towers of Faith is a movement that has arisen due to the visionary leadership and generosity of several of our Parishioners. We stress that this is not about the gift amount, but rather the love and thought behind the gift.

These individuals (several anonymous) have included STM in their estate planning. This helps to ensure their ongoing support and a legacy for our Parish. Towers of Faith is a valuable portion of our future support.

Examples of the various future planning vehicles are:

Designated Beneficiary Accounts,
Last Will and Testament, Living Trust, Life Insurance,
Stocks and Bonds, Real Estate, and Endowments.

Any parishioners who have already included STM in their estate plans are Towers of Faith participants. If you are interested, please contact us. Your participation is most welcome and appreciated!

Chris Smith at 760-758-4100 x120, or chriss@stmoside.org.

your will and/or living trust?

Christian Stewardship Prayer for June

Gracious God,

So often you attempt to offer us
a peaceful awareness of your presence.

It is always there,
but we do not slow down enough to become aware of it.

Help us to slow down and appreciate this gift,
and come to a deeper understanding of the movement of your Spirit in our lives.

Help us recognize those moments when you rescued us, healed us, and reconciled us.

Increase our trust in you, show us
how to reach beyond ourselves to minister to others, and give us the wisdom to be better stewards and sacraments
of your presence each day.

We pray this in Jesus' name. Amen

— ICSC June 2014 e-bulletin (with permission)

"It is a duty and honor for Christians to return to God a portion of the good things they have received from God."

St. Francis School is a Roman Catholic preschool, elementary school, and middle school whose purpose is to provide an outstanding, well-rounded academic and moral education to prepare children for the 21st century. We are accredited by the Western Association of Schools and Colleges (WASC) and Western Catholic Education Association (WCEA). Over 50 years after opening, St. Francis School remains grounded in the dedication to faith formation, scholastic achievement, and stewardship of our students. Valuing parents as the primary educators of the child, educators and parents work together to create a supportive and dynamic environment where every student can reach his/her potential.

St. Francis School has a Learning Support Program to meet the needs of all students and individualize the education to help every student achieve and excel. Along with a rigorous relevant curriculum, we also offer several extracurricular activities such as, STEM, Robotics, Art, Gardening, Archery, and Tennis. Preschoolers have the option of signing up for the Gym Bus, a mobile gymnastics program for preschool-aged children and Soccer Shots, a soccer program for children aged 2-8.

Please visit the school website www.sfs-vista.org or call the school office at 760-630-7960 for answers to your questions, to submit an application, or to arrange a tour of the school.
