The Vineyard

The vineyard is a popular Christian symbol. It appears a number of times in the New Testament.

Very simply, the earth is the vineyard. We are workers in that vineyard. There were workers before us. There will be workers after us.

While we are in the vineyard, we are called to tend it and to bear fruit. One day, for each of us, there will be an accounting of our efforts in the Owner's vineyard.

God is the Owner. We are the workers. We are God's stewards. We get ourselves into trouble when we begin to create illusions that we are the owners.

Failing to recognize that all is pure gift, and that we enjoy the gift just for a short time, we fantasize that we own things; that these things, whatever they may be, belong to us.

We get caught up in our ownership and begin to use God's vineyard for our own purposes.

We cloud our vision with ownership. We clear our vision with stewardship.

When we, deep in our hearts and souls, come to the realization that we are just "passing through" the vineyard, as invited guests of the Owner, we begin to see clearly.

Our time, our talent, and our treasure are products of God's vineyard. It is the "stuff" of the vineyard, the Owner's "stuff" that has given us the ability to create our time, talent, and treasure.

To be in right relationship with the Owner, we must recognize the Owner and carry an attitude of praise and gratitude, and a desire to give back what has been given to us.

The Scriptures remind us over and over again that the “first fruits” belong to the Owner, they belong to God, and they become our gift of praise and thanksgiving. The “first fruits” keep us sensitive to the fragility and timeliness of life, remind us that we are stewards, not owners, and help to keep our vision clear and crisp.

May each of us take time to reflect upon our relationship with God, and rededicate the “first fruits” of our time, talent, and treasure to the Owner of the vineyard!

Special All Souls Day Mass

There will be a special All Souls Day Mass on Monday, November 2, at 7:00pm on the upper level. Let us gather as a Parish community to remember our loved ones who have gone before us and now rest in the peace and joy of God's presence.

World Mission Sunday

World Mission Sunday, organized by the Propagation of the Faith, is a day set aside for Catholics worldwide to recommit themselves to the Church's missionary activity through prayer and sacrifice. An envelope is attached to the bulletin and may be returned any time during October.

Mission dioceses around the world—about 1,100 at this time—receive regular annual assistance from the funds collected. Your prayers and contributions are most appreciated!

Considering Becoming Catholic?

Has Pope Francis ignited a spark in you to know more about the Catholic faith and become a member of the Church he shepherds?

If you are already Catholic, perhaps you have a new enthusiasm for your faith that you would like to share with a friend or family member who is searching.

Our lives sometimes go through seasons of change, of closeness to God and distance from God. Yet the Father's love is steadfast, full of mercy, and ever-present to those who seek with a sincere heart, no matter what sins or situations have caused separation.

If you have thought about becoming Catholic and beginning a new “season” in your life, contact Kathleen Bell, 760-809-6526, 80bell80@gmail.com.

Our Mission is to:
worship God,
teach and live the Gospel of Jesus Christ,
and serve God's people in word and deed.

Rather, the love to which the spouses have been configured is powerful enough to transform their whole life's journey so that it becomes a journey toward perfection. In this journey, the spouses are ever more conformed into the likeness of Christ so that they can ever more perfectly love one another as Christ loves his Church." <http://www.usccb.org/loveandlife/>.

Women's Guild News

We had a very inspiring luncheon meeting last Monday that featured guest speakers who are selflessly doing good things for the poor and needy throughout the world. "Culture of Care" was the focus of the program and included a summary of the activities at Rachel's House, part of St. Peter Claver's mission, as well as Nancy Nunec, R.N., who shared her experiences working with the medical missions in Northeast India, an extremely poor and destitute area of the world. Let us carry on their message and work, following in the footsteps of Pope Francis, whose life so exemplifies his dedication to the marginalized populations here and abroad.

The new directories are in! If you did not pick up your copy at the meeting, stop by the Parish Office and Henny will give you one.

Our popular Bake Sale next weekend (October 24-25) after each Mass will offer home baked goodies from our Parishioners. Those whose last names start with H through Z will receive a phone call this week from a Women's Guild member soliciting baked items for the sale. The donated items can be dropped off before any Mass. See the bulletin flyer for details. The weekend of November 14-15) will be the Fall Small-Quilt Items Fair where you will find beautiful, handmade items, crafted by our talented quilters, for sale. Just in time for gift giving and the holidays ahead! May Jesus bless us as we start a new week!

MINISTRY BEYOND THE “USUAL”

It is very easy to get caught up in the “usual” things we do.

I find myself eating the same food for breakfast, wearing the same tie for funerals, driving the same roads to visit my family in Northern California, going to the same restaurant for pizza.

Of course, my world won’t end if I were to look in a different part of the cupboard for breakfast, to wear a red tie for funerals, to take the slightly longer route to see my folks, or to try a “new” pizza place. But sometimes it feels like it.

We get caught up in our regular activities, and ministering at a church is no different. A while back, I got a note from someone that said, “How are we going to do this, this year?” Emphasis on the second this.

I had been planning to do “this” the same way we had done it for years, but clearly the Spirit—in the guise of my colleague—was reminding yet again that Jesus’ last seven words were not “We’ve always done it this way before.” (Alternatively translated, “We’ve never done it this way before.”) So we did something different. I am not sure it was better—or worse—but it was another opportunity for us to try something new, to see if it resonates in a different way.

Working in church ministry, it is easy for me to think I do plenty for God. My professional work is intimately involved in my faith, and I am very blessed by that. But it is also tempting to say that I do enough for God by “working” at a church.

Don’t get me wrong, I love what I do, serving God in word and deed through the liturgy and the music. And I find it exceedingly rewarding. But it is important that my work in God’s vineyard includes time spent outside my professional activities.

For instance, last night, my wife and I cooked dinner at her church for Interfaith Shelter Network’s Rotational Shelter. The Network involves over 120 congregations of all denominations county-wide in the Rotational Shelter program. About 70 of the congregations host the program in their facilities for two or four weeks a year and the remainder serve in a valuable support role, providing volunteers for meals and overnight hosting, transportation and donations. St. Thomas More has helped to support the Rotational Shelter in the past.

Through congregations linking with others, people are sheltered where there are no shelters and receive the understanding and support of congregations when previously all they knew was fear and uncertainty. Congregations benefit by getting to know homeless individuals personally and the mutual sharing of stories is beneficial to both.

Each year—and sometimes twice a year—up to 20 people come to stay at my wife’s church for two weeks. The church provides overnight accommodation, including beds, showers, dinner, breakfast, and a sack lunch to take for the day. For these weeks, members of our community—single, married, with and without children—who temporarily find themselves in a tough spot can have a safe place to stay while they find a job, find an apartment, gain critical new skills, or work out their next step. Then, they move to another church, somewhere in San Diego County, where another group of volunteers minister to them.

I find my ministry to these sisters and brothers in need to be exceedingly beneficial and, yes, important to my spiritual wellbeing. They are certainly not the “least of these” that Jesus talks about in Matthew 25, but they are in need, and ministering to them reminds me that my usual, professional activities to minister in God’s vineyard are not enough.

The good news is that there are lots of opportunities outside our usual activities if we listen carefully for the Spirit’s guidance.

Stewards of a Missionary Church

The month of October is an ideal time to focus our prayerful reflections on the world and to see its people as a gift from God. The global community is a gift to be received with gratitude and held in stewardship. With the celebration of World Mission Sunday, October is a month that offers Catholics world-wide the opportunity to renew their commitment to proclaim the Gospel and to give a greater missionary focus to Parish activities. It is time to reflect on the global context of our stewardship, and to express our gratitude to missionaries who bear witness to Christ in the most remote and challenging places of the world, often with their lives.

The month of October can remind us that being witnesses to Jesus Christ is a stewardship responsibility of us all. In a world experiencing increasingly disturbing forms of alienation and indifference, our communion of faith can offer signs of hope and work to make the planet a home for all people.

We are "communion" because of the gift of the Eucharist. And this gift that we celebrate in the sacrament is not something we can keep to ourselves. By its very nature it demands to be shared with everyone. That is one reason the missionary impulse of our Church has always been a sign of vitality in its unique witness of unity around the world.

There are a number of ways you can focus on the missionary activity of the Church:

- † Include petitions for the Church's missionary work in your daily prayers.
- † Increase your awareness of the wider global mission of the Church.
- † Discover ways to participate in specific missionary activities taking place in our Parish.
- † Give generously on World Mission Sunday!

The Church's work around the world is as important as the work in our own neighborhood. Let us be mindful this month that we are stewards of the Gospel, called to proclaim it to the ends of the earth, bringing hope to a world that hungers for Christ's peace.

—ICSC Stewardship October 2015 e-bulletin (with permission)

The Church's work around the world is as important as the work in our own neighborhood.
